

PEDIATRIC HEPATOLOGY SUMMER SCHOOL

April 27-30, 2016
Visegrád, Hungary

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Hepatology Committee of the European Society for Paediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition we are cordially invite you to the forthcoming Pediatric Hepatology Summer School in Hungary in 2016. The conference will take place on 27-30 April, 2016 in Visegrád, Hungary. The meeting is endorsed by the First Department of Pediatrics, Semmelweis University, Budapest, Hungary and the Hungarian Pediatric Gastroenterology Society.

The educational goal toward which the summer school is organised is to provide an update in knowledge on the pathophysiology, diagnosis, treatment and prevention of the most common liver diseases in children and, furthermore, to provide well-founded advice on the management of these children and on referral criteria.

During the school, lectures and presentations are given by expert paediatric hepatologists from various European centres and members of the ESPGHAN Hepatology Committee. To cover all important topics other experts (pathologist, radiologist, paediatric surgeon) are also invited.

The limited number of participants will give ample opportunities for discussion and networking between participants and faculty members. Participants are kindly invited to send a brief CV and case report which will be discussed during interactive case presentation sessions.

We are glad to announce that the registration for the Hepatology Summer School 2016 is now open.

Registration available via the website until 15th of March 2016:

pedhepaschool2016.misandbos.hu

We are looking forward to meet you in Visegrád, Hungary!

Antal Dezsőfi

Local Organiser

Antal Dezsőfi, Hungary

Faculty

Ulli Baumann, Germany
Patrizia Burra, Italy
Dominique Debray, France
Antal Dezsőfi, Hungary
Attila Doros, Hungary
Björn Fischler, Sweden
Isabel Goncalves, Portugal
Dino Hadzic, UK
Jörg Jahnel, Austria
Deirdre Kelly, UK
Alex Knisely, UK/Hungary
Zoltán Máthé, Hungary
Valerio Nobili, Italy
Piotr Socha, Poland
Henkjan Verkade, Netherlands

Further information:

pedhepaschool2016.misandbos.hu

espghan.org

pedhepaschool2016@misandbos.hu

The Summer School is organised by the Hepatology Committee of ESPGHAN and supported by UEG.

Young Investigator Grant

The Hepatology Committee of ESPGHAN aims to support young investigators in their scientific careers. Trainees from Eastern Europe may apply for a grant of 500 € to support expenses of travel and registration. All applicants should send an abstract of a case report on related topic and brief CV until 1th of March, 2016.

10 travel grants in total will be available.

Applications will be scored by the organisers and notified before 15th of March 2016.

